We remained committed to identifying the best approaches to address emerging challenges, and respond effectively to the shifting regional geo-economics and geo-politics, especially in relation to peace, stability, security and prosperity in the region and beyond. We highlighted the need to further develop a rules-based and norms-based regional architecture, by promoting the norms and principles enshrined in the ASEAN Charter, other instruments and declarations, such as the Treaty of Amity and Cooperation in Southeast Asia (TAC), the Treaty on the Southeast Asia Nuclear Weapon Free Zone (SEANWFZ), the Declaration on the Conduct of Parties in the South China Sea (DOC), and the Declaration of the East Asia Summit on the Principles for Mutually Beneficial Relations (Bali Principles).

We tasked the ASEAN Coordinating Council (ACC) and the ASEAN Community Councils, with the support of the relevant senior officials and the Committee of Permanent Representatives to ASEAN (CPR), to implement the HLTF Recommendations within time bound targets.

ASEAN Political-Security Community (APSC)

8. We noted with satisfaction the achievements made by ASEAN over the past year to maintain and enhance peace, security, stability and further strengthen peace-oriented values in the region. In this respect, we welcomed the growing interest of non-ASEAN countries to accede to the TAC. Bearing in mind the current regional and global developments, we further underscored the need for synergy between the various initiatives proposed concerning the establishment of new regional security architecture. We affirmed the importance for ASEAN to be at the forefront of efforts to consider a legally binding treaty or agreement, enshrining those norms, values and principles, in particular the TAC and the Declaration of the East Asia Summit on the Principles for Mutually Beneficial Relations (Bali Principles) that will apply to the wider region, as well as complement and enhance existing regional security instruments and arrangements. In this connection, we encouraged our respective Ministers to make further deliberation on this issue.

9. Acknowledging the importance of the Treaty on the Southeast Asia Nuclear Weapon Free Zone (SEANWFZ) as an instrument to ensure regional peace, security and stability, we reaffirmed our commitment to preserving Southeast Asia as a nuclear weapon-free zone and free from all other weapons of mass destruction, as enshrined in the ASEAN Charter. We encouraged the full and effective implementation of the Plan of Action on Strengthening the Implementation of the SEANWFZ Treaty (2013-2017). We noted the outcome of First Thematic Human Rights Dialogue between the Thai Government and the AICHR on Migrant Workers held in Bangkok this year which would help in strengthening AICHR's functions in the promotion and protection of human rights in advancing towards a people-oriented and people-centred ASEAN Community. We were satisfied with the progress made at the first coordinating meeting for the AICHR Thematic Study on Right to Peace and Workshop on Human Rights, Environment and Climate Change. Acknowledging that human rights is a cross-cutting issue, we encouraged enhanced coordination and consultation among AICHR, the ASEAN Commission on the Promotion and Protection of the Rights of Women and Children and other relevant sectoral bodies, to develop synergy among these bodies and mainstream human rights into the work of ASEAN across the three Community Pillars.

We further encouraged the development of an effective and applicable approach of preventive diplomacy and its utilization in the ARF process. We welcomed the outcomes of the ARF Seminar on Preventive Diplomacy and Mediation Training in Bandar Seri Begawan from 7 to 10 October, in which practical efforts such as trainings, capacity-building activities and close collaboration with other regional and international organisations are identified as important in these endeavours.
15. We welcomed the success and fruitful outcomes of the 5th ASEAN Maritime Forum (AMF) and the 3rd Expanded ASEAN Maritime Forum (EAMF) on 27 and 28 August 2014 respectively in Da Nang, Viet Nam, which have contributed to the promotion of dialogue in confidence-building in maritime cooperation and maritime security for peace, stability, maritime security and safety, freedom of navigation in the region. ASEAN Economic Community (AEC)

22. We are pleased to note that the economic performance of the ASEAN region remains robust in a global economic environment that continues to be challenging and uncertain. ASEAN's real GDP grew by 5.1% in 2013. Although regional economic growth is projected to soften to around 4.6% in 2014, this is seen to be caused by temporary domestic factors and regional growth is forecast to pick up to 5.3% in 2015.
23. Total trade of ASEAN economies reached USD 2.5 trillion in 2013, or an increase of 1.4% from 2012. The slower growth in 2013 was due to a slowdown in the growth of total merchandise imports from 6.6% to 1.5%, while growth of total merchandise exports slightly grew from 1% to 1.3%. Export growth in the region is expected to be higher but still modest in 2014, reflecting the projected broad-based but still modest upturn in the volume of world trade in 2014. Continued confidence in ASEAN was reflected in stronger FDI inflows of USD122.4 billion in 2013, compared with USD114.3 billion in 2012.
24. We recognised the downside risks that could adversely affect regional trade and investment activities, including the deepening geopolitical risks; subdued and uneven recovery in the advanced economies; sharper than expected moderation in China's economic growth; and potential adverse developments in global financial markets. Critical to managing these risks is to maintain ASEAN's resilient macroeconomic fundamentals and financial stability, address domestic weaknesses especially in infrastructure, and continue to implement the measures to deepen economic integration in order to sustain and improve the region's competitiveness for trade and investments.

25. We noted the continuing progress made in the implementation of the AEC Blueprint which has implemented 82.1% of the 229 prioritised AEC deliverables identified for 2013, in line with the 2012 Phnom Penh Agenda for ASEAN Community Building that called for priority activities and key measures to address the challenges and obstacles in realizing the AEC. An additional 61 key deliverables for 2014-2015 have also been implemented as of October 2014. Realising the ASEAN is now at the tail-end of the implementation of the AEC Blueprint, we encouraged to speed up the priorities in 2015 will be to fast-track the implementation of the prioritised AEC deliverables, communicate the AEC to stakeholders, and finalise the AEC's post-2015 agenda for deeper regional economic integration. We committed to firmly address the remaining challenges and continue to pursue economic integration with urgency and resolution.
26. We noted the progress made in trade liberalisation and facilitation initiatives in the region, such as the on-going work to eliminate tariffs, address Non-Tariff Barrier (NTB) effects of Non-Tariff Measures (NTMs), self-certification pilot projects, establishment of the ASEAN Trade Repository (ATR), ASEAN Single Window (ASW)), and the ASEAN Customs Transit System (ACTS). We look forward to the signing of the Protocol on the Legal Framework to Implement the ASEAN Single Window (PLF) by the ASEAN Finance Ministers by the first half of 2015. We looked forward to the full implementation of the Protocol that will enable each ASEAN Member State to improve their investment reservations expediently.

29. In facilitating the mobility of professionals and skilled labour, we look forward to the completion of the signing of the ASEAN Mutual Recognition Arrangement on Accountancy Services by the Economic Ministers as well as the endorsement of the ASEAN Qualifications Reference Framework (AQRF) by Economic and Education Ministers. We encouraged the sectoral Ministries and agencies concerned to continue their collaboration in ensuring proper implementation of these agreements.
30. We recognised that the development of SMEs remains a key component of the work on the equitable economic development pillar. The establishment of the AEC Community by 2015 will provide more opportunities to SMEs in respect of market access and simplified rules. However, challenges remain in ensuring that SMEs will fully realise these benefits. We urged the mainstreaming of SME considerations particularly in their post-2015 work programmes, including in the areas of tariffs, NTBs, rules of origin and standards, so that SME interests are addressed across these sectoral bodies.
31. We welcomed the contribution of women and young entrepreneurs to the activities of ASEAN, particularly in enhancing their contribution to SME development. We welcomed efforts to look into more programmes that enhance their capacity to engage in the activities of the ASEAN Community. We also considered the need to work closely with ASEAN Young Entrepreneur Association (YEA) and the ASEAN Women Entrepreneurship Network (ASEAN WEN) to collaborate on these matters.
32. We thanked the World Bank for its technical assistance to ASEAN in drafting the ASEAN Framework for Equitable Economic Development (AFEED) Monitoring Report.
