We will continue to cooperate closely in multilateral fora and strengthen cooperation in relevant sub-regional cooperation frameworks and cooperation mechanisms.
3. We underscore the importance of promoting peace, stability and prosperity across the Indo-Pacific region, which is facing various challenges. We share the view to promote a rules-based Indo-Pacific region that is free and open, embraces key principles such as ASEAN's unity and centrality, inclusiveness, transparency and complements ASEAN community building process. In this regard, ASEAN leaders note with appreciation Japan's intention to further contribute more proactively to securing regional and international peace, stability and prosperity, as well as Japan's continued support for ASEAN connectivity, including through its policy of "Proactive Contribution to Peace" and its policy on a free and open Indo-Pacific, which reaffirms ASEAN's vital role as the bridge connecting the Indian and Pacific Oceans in the Indo-Pacific.
4. We will strengthen dialogue and cooperation to enhance mutual understanding and friendship, and promote defence exchanges and security cooperation to address common security issues, maritime security, terrorism, transnational crimes and other non-traditional security challenges in the pursuit of regional peace and stability through existing ASEAN-led frameworks and mechanisms such as the ASEAN Plus Japan mechanisms, ASEAN Plus Three (APT), the East Asia Summit (EAS), the ASEAN Regional Forum (ARF), and the ASEAN Defence Ministers' Meeting Plus (ADMM-Plus), as well as the Expanded ASEAN Maritime Forum (EAMF). We reiterate the importance of non-militarization and self-restraint, and refraining from conduct of activities that could further complicate the situation and undermine peace, security and stability in the region.
6. We reaffirm our commitment to achieving free and open trade and resisting all forms of protectionism and underline the critical importance of the rules-based multilateral trading system as embodied in the World Trade Organisation (WTO).
